5. Continue entering the fields as instructed.

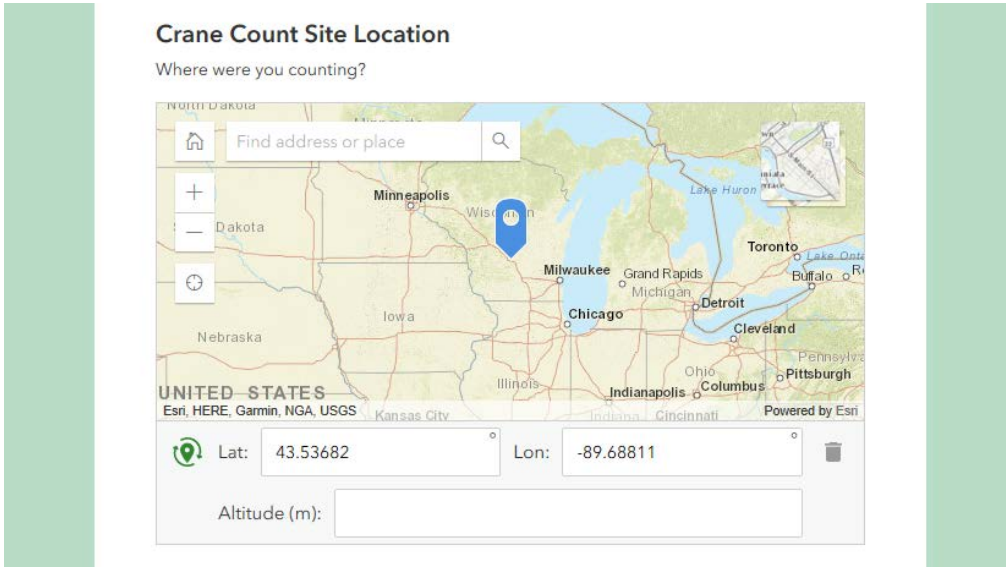

Please enter the data you and your fellow volunteers counted together. Use the plus (+) button below to add additional sites.

Crane Count Site Location
Where were you counting?

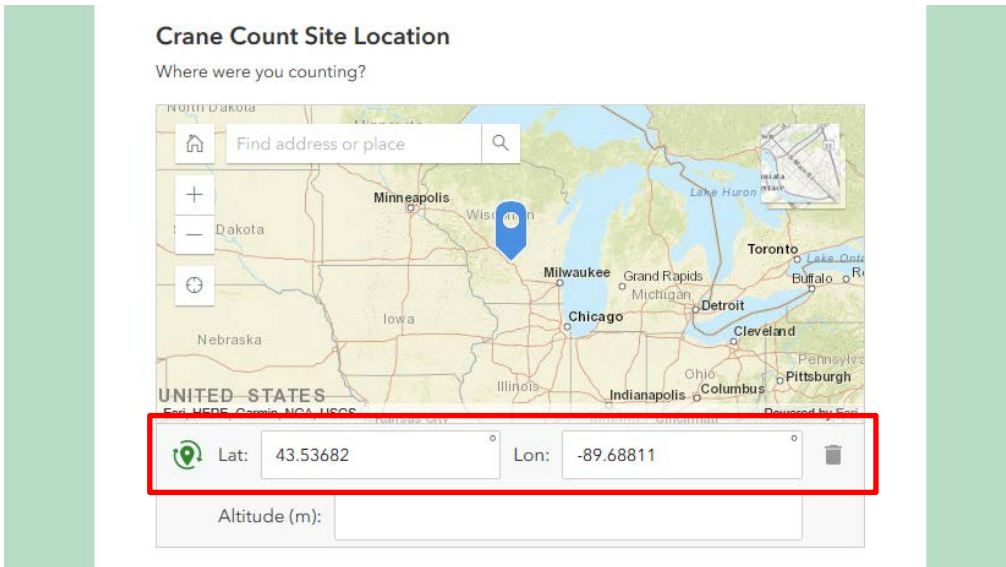

In total, how many Sandhill Cranes did you count? *

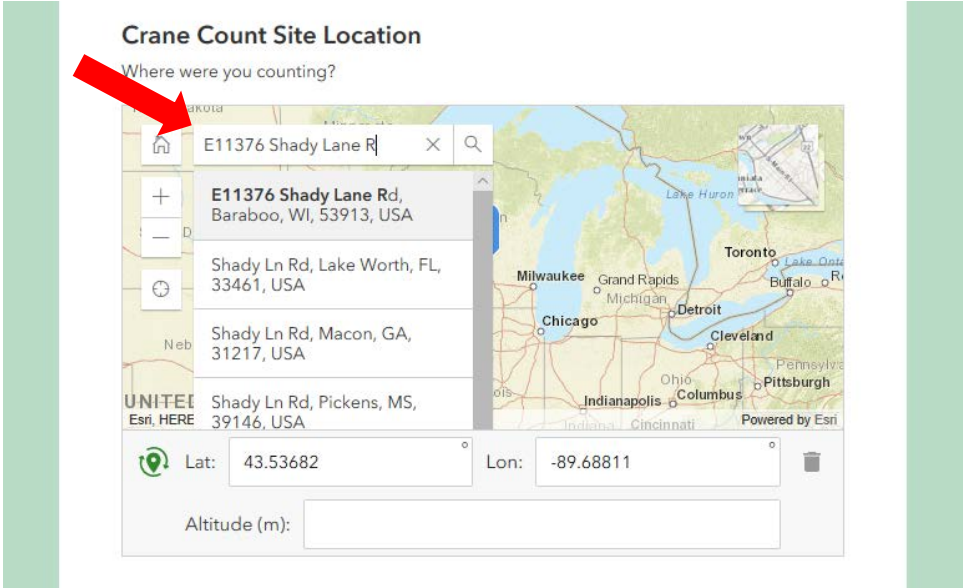

6. To enter where you were counting, first press the “Set Location” button.

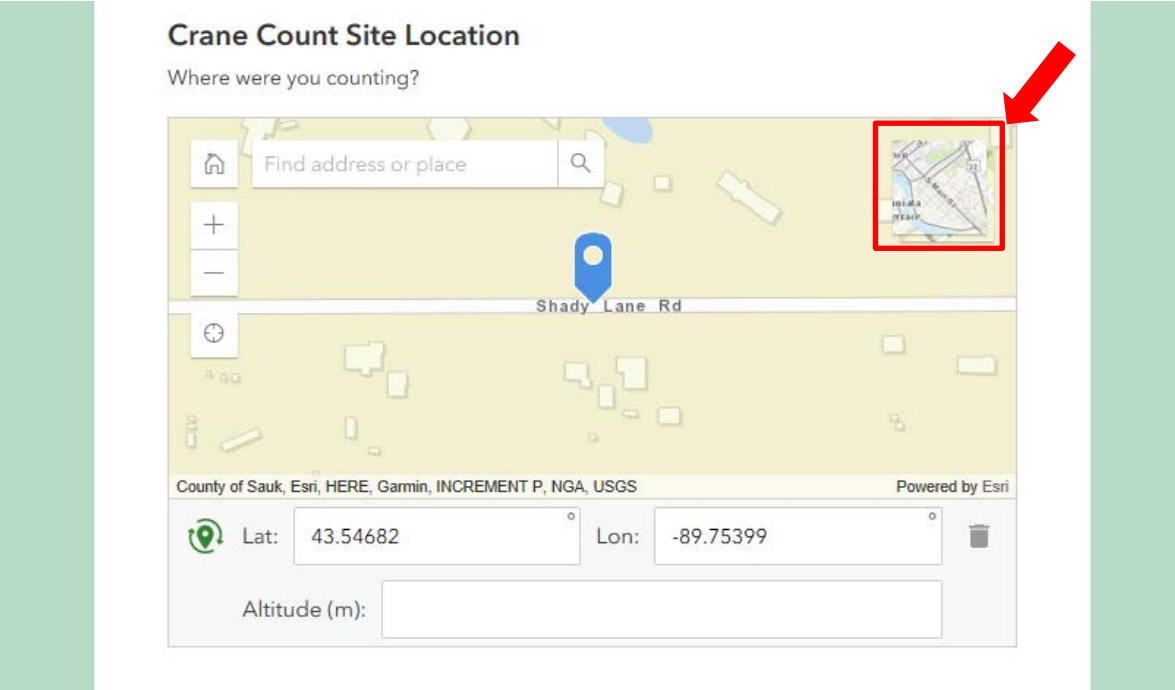

7. This map will then pop up. There are a few ways to locate the area were you counted:

- a. If you know the exact latitude/longitude, you can type the coordinates into their respective text boxes.

b. If you know the address of your location, you can type that into the search box at the top of the map, hit enter and it will select this area.

c. If you don't know the exact address you can zoom in on the map and click and drag the map to move it around. The blue marker will stay stationary. To identify the location where you counted, drag the map until the tip of the blue marker points at your count location. The map will change the latitude/longitude based on where the point of the marker is.

You can toggle through different types of maps in the upper right corner (red box).

Submit

Powered by Survey123 for ArcGIS

Continue filling out the form as instructed. If you surveyed other sites with the same group of people, click the “+” button at the end of the form to add another site without having to re-enter the observer information.* If you only surveyed one site, simply press submit. Please note it may take a little time for the form to submit. Only click on the button once.

*If you surveyed a different site with a different group of counters you will need to start a new entry.

8. This is the final screen that will pop up to let you know that your information was submitted!
